¹ The parties have been discussing search terms by topic, and this list of terms follows those topics.

² Because multiple searches can return the same document, calculated “totals” throughout this exhibit are less than numeric totals of the search terms within each topic. In other words, these totals and those highlighted in yellow represent the total number of additional documents for review after accounting for documents that contain multiple search terms.

⁷ Google has already employed certain searches over certain custodians' ESI (e.g., stand-alone WAA terms for the non-WAA custodians). Wherever a custodians' name appears (in parentheses) next to a search, this indicates Google has already employed the term for the custodian(s) not identified in parentheses and Google and/or Plaintiffs now propose that Google run the terms over the remaining identified custodian(s).
